

1. PRIVATE ISLAND CARETAKER

- ▶ Estimated pay: $15,000-$120,000 per year
- Location: Some lonely island, far away from civilization
- Difficulty: Private islands need lots of upkeep, but your downtime is on an island
- Job Description: With the growing trend among the super rich to buy private islands comes a growing demand in caretakers for these tropical paradises. If you are lucky enough be chosen for this privileged work, you will spend your days in locations others can only dream of visiting - and you're even getting paid for it.

2. WATER SLIDE TESTER

► Estimated pay: Around $26,000 per year

Location: Around the world

Difficulty: You go down waterslides all day

Job Description: This is one of those things that only children can dream up, but wouldn't you know it - it's an actual job. There is a little more to this position than just slipping down water slides though. You check the height, speed, water quantity and landing of the flumes. But between all the safety checks, there is plenty of time to have a whole lot of fun.

3. PROFESSIONAL NETFLIX WATCHER

▶ Estimated pay: Around $20,000 per year

Location: At home

Difficulty: Your main challenge will be not falling asleep

Job Description: Yes, there is actually a small select group of individuals who literally get paid to sit on the couch all day and watch Netflix. If you've ever wondered how Netflix seems to know what you like, even if you don't even know yourself yet, these are the people responsible. You won't get rich doing it, but if watching Netflix is your thing, this might just be your personal dream job.

4. PROFESSIONAL TRAVELER

► Estimated Pay: Around $50,000 per year

Location: Planet earth

Difficulty: Traveling a lot can be tough, but you get to see the world for free

Job Description: Who wouldn't like to be on vacation for ever. Well, now you can - as a professional traveler. In 2009, TheBigTrip.com was looking for candidates to be a travel correspondent for the site with all travel expenses paid and full health insurance - in addition to the salary mentioned above. One lucky employee actually got to travel the US for 12 weeks while writing a travel blog and hosting webisodes for the site.

THANKS FOR READING!

