Chef

⌘ WHERE'S THE LAMB SAUCE?????

⌘ A chef is a highly trained and skilled professional cook who is proficient in all aspects of food preparation of a particular cuisine.

My opinion. A chef is a good job cause you can earn a nice salary. The best part is your not paying for the food you make so you can spit in in it...no one will notice...if you know the basics of culinary you can win master chef.

Water slide tester

- ⌘ This is the best job in the world nothing to say...
- ⌘ The job involves travelling around Europe, rating the slides at First Choice's SplashWorld resorts, reporting back with your slide ratings and coming up with new ideas for their customers. You'll be asked to report your findings through social media channels. 😊

Sales man

- ⌘ It's a really hard job you'll have to work long and hard. All day you'll be near your phone answering phone calls.
- ⌘ sale is the exchange of a commodity or money as the price of a good or a service.

Principal

- ⌘ Being a principal is hard you have to deal with all of the schools problems always in stress.
- ⌘ Many colleges of further education in England have a principal in charge of the schools problems.

Teacher

- It's a good job if you can educate students if not you'll be sitting on a big pile of papers to put random grades on.
- A teacher is a person who helps others to acquire knowledge, competences or values.
- normally the role of teacher may be taken on by anyone when showing a colleague how to perform a specific task.

Fisherman

⌘ I quite like fishing but some times its really bad like when it starts to rain or your in the middle of the lake for an eternity and you wont catch any thing...but its fun

⌘ A fisherman or fisher is someone who captures fish and other animals from a body of water, or gathers shellfish.

⌘ Worldwide, there are about 38 million commercial and subsistence fishermen.
