

Essay by Viktorija Bareikaite 7A

My town is awesome, but I wish to fix some problems there. Firstly, there're homeless animals. Secondly, people don't recycle packaging. Thirdly, there're a lot of cars and a lot of air pollution.

If I were mayor, I would build more animal shelters for homeless cats and dogs. I would hire people to feed animals and to play with them every day in the shelters. We would try to find new owners for the pets. To reduce air pollution I would give everyone a free bicycle, and for volunteers I would give electric cars. I would encourage people not to use cars every day. To make streets cleaner I would provide more rubbish bins, and I would hire more people to pick up the trash. I would make it illegal to smoke and drink alcohol. If people did not recycle they would have to pay fines.

In my opinion, these changes would make a big difference in my town. But if I could only do one thing, I would provide free bicycles and electric cars for everyone.
